FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

COMPANY EXPERIENCES GROWTH

InnoTech hires additional employee due to growth; even in difficult economy.

Wauwatosa, WI (June 30, 2009) - Increased business has led InnoTech to add to its team. Latasha Travis has been hired as a Senior Software Developer at InnoTech. Her extensive programming experience will allow her to address a variety of client needs and will help with the increased demand for both custom software and custom websites.

Owner Jim Schram says "there are still companies out there doing business and even growing; Latasha's experience will allow us to continue our growth and accommodate our client's needs."

Custom software solutions are being used by many companies to actually save money during this difficult business climate, and customized websites are being used to draw in more business, so while there is an initial cost, clients are seeing either a drop in expenses or an increase in sales due to these options.
